Trish Henry, M.EdTech

Mead School District trish.henry@mead354.org
Work Phone: (509) 465-6016

Current Assignment

K-12 District Library Information Technology Facilitator, Learning Services

- Current assignment includes purchasing of library materials for 12 schools, active member on all district curriculum adoption committees, and professional development leader

Areas of Expertise

- Instructional resources
- Integration of instructional technology
- Emerging technologies
- Digital citizenship and issues around digital resources and student access
- Game-based learning
- Project-based learning
- Cross-curricular integration
- Cross-curricular standards alignment

Background

- 30 years teaching research and technology integration K-12
- Experience includes classroom teaching experience as a high school English teacher, middle school English teacher, and as a 5th grade teacher.
- Adjunct at Whitworth University
- Children's Literature
- Adjunct at Central Washington University
- Library Administration
- Emerging and Applied Technology
- Library Practicum,
- K-12 Representative on the Washington State Library Council since 2012
- District trainer for instructional technology, instructional practices, curriculum content integration (primarily in social studies, science, technology, and English)
- Winner of the ISTE Making it Happen Award 2014
- OSPI Social Studies Cadre member and assessment trainer since 2006
- Member of the Washington Library Association: Schools Division Steering Committee since 2016