Additional Information

Native Education Certificate/University of Washington—Summer, 2018

UW College of Education and UW Professional and Continuing Education will be offering the Native Education Certificate Program for the next cohort with hybrid learning opportunities beginning Summer 2018. This program is designed to cultivate educators' abilities to create meaningful and effective relationships and partnerships with Native American students, families, and communities through community-based pedagogies. Educators will develop community and culturally based pedagogical expertise to ensure Native students thrive and succeed. Also, educators will develop content expertise and perspectives about the historical dynamics and impacts on practices of schooling in order to transform them and thus contributing to making school and future careers relevant to the pressing needs of Native communities.
