

Digital Survival Skills & MisinfoDay Jr.

Workshop Sponsored by OSPI

Join Shawn Lee and Liz Crouse, co-founders of Teachers for an Informed Public, for a 2-day workshop that will prepare you to teach your students how to navigate today's information landscape. You will explore activities that help students reflect on their own media environment, understand how cognitive bias and social media algorithms influence that environment, and learn how to investigate new sources and claims online. These activities culminate in a student-led "social science fair" event where they present their new skills and knowledge to family members to help them become more savvy information consumers as well. The activities are written for middle and high school students; we encourage educators at all levels who are interested in adapting this work to attend. Free clock hours available.

Register here for August 15, 9–4 p.m. & August 16, 9–1 p.m.
